

PARK COUNTY'S CULTURAL HISTORY: A BIBLIOGRAPHY AND RESOURCE GUIDE

COMPILED BY THE PARK COUNTY HISTORIC PRESERVATION ADVISORY COMMISSION

P.O. Box 1373; Fairplay, CO 80440.

This document will list resources that can supply or lead to significant information on Park County and/or Park County people, even though some resources may have a much broader scope. Newspaper items will generally be cited only when they concern newsworthy events, or information that helps to interpret the times. Abbreviations and omission of publishers will be employed in order to save space (Abbreviated 1850-1900 dates [such as 1/1/87], will refer to the 19th Century; if there is doubt, later years will contain all 4 digits. The Denver Post, Denver Republican, Denver Times, Fairplay Flume, & Rocky Mtn. News newspapers will usually appear as DP, DR, DT, FF, & RMN. Pages & columns will appear as numbers within parentheses.). When a resource entry does not indicate its subject, a short description may be included in parentheses at the end of the entry.

Users should not assume that information in the listed resources is always accurate. Indeed, Park County history has been infected with errors and myths that have become "gospel" just because they appeared in print. A thorough, careful user of the resources included here will be able to replace most error and fantasy with the facts.

Also included will be a separate list of general resources with no or few direct Park County references. Still, they may help with analysis or interpretation of such things as artifacts, buildings, or historic activities and context.

Some resources listed are not necessarily widely available. In that case, we will list locations known to us where they may be found and/or where copies may be obtained. Those repositories are listed on the following page.

Those seeking data from County or Court records in Fairplay must arrange to do their own research. Employees there are more than busy with their daily duties; they are simply unable to devote time to historical research.

Searching the computer version of this document is useful, but seldom complete. To wit, a search for "Fairplay" would not find the Bayou Salado book, with many references to Fairplay. And the entries here, notably newspaper items, often do not represent the full documentary record of a given subject. Many are simply isolated references of which we are aware, Park Co. "snapshots" that may help lead the user to a fuller exploration of a matter of interest.

We hope to be able to update this document on a somewhat regular basis. To that end, we ask its users' forgiveness for our errors and omissions; and we request their help in suggesting revisions that will improve it in the future. As revisions are made, the revision date will appear in the upper right corner of the page.

Most importantly, we ask that the resources listed here be used only with absolute integrity and respect. Let us all join in to seek out, preserve, and share any documentary evidence of Park County's rich cultural heritage.
